ABSTRACT

This federally funded directory lists special education teacher preparation programs in each state. The information was collected through a survey sent to institutions of higher education. The directory also includes lists of related services programs, but only when the programs fall under the college or department of education at the institution of higher education. Entries are arranged in alphabetical order by state, and within state in alphabetical order according to institution name. The following types of information are provided: institution name, school/department name, mailing address, name of department head or program chair, telephone numbers, electronic mail address, accreditation information (whether the institution's programs have been approved by the Council for Exceptional Children for the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education accreditation process, and/or whether the institution is state-accredited), number of full-time and part-time faculty, institutional type (whether the institution is an historically Black college or university or other minority institution), and program information (includes program academic levels and the names of each of the programs or areas of concentration offered at each level). A subject index lists programs available for different disabilities and concentrations. An appendix includes the survey form. (CR)

The Council for Exceptional Children

CEC: Leading the Way

The Council for Exceptional Children (CEC) is the largest professional organization internationally committed to improving educational outcomes for individuals with exceptionalities. CEC accomplishes its worldwide mission on behalf of educators and others working with children with exceptionalities by advocating for appropriate government policies, setting professional standards, providing continuing professional development, and assisting professionals to obtain conditions and resources necessary for effective professional practice.

CEC: The Unifying Force of a Diverse Field

The Council for Exceptional Children, a private nonprofit membership organization, was established in 1922. CEC is an active network of 59 State/Provincial Federations, 600 Chapters, 17 Specialized Divisions, and 275 Subdivisions with reach in over 40 countries.

The Council for Exceptional Children is a major publisher of special education literature and produces a comprehensive catalog semiannually. Its professional journals, TEACHING Exceptional Children and Exceptional Children, reach over 100,000 readers and provide a wealth of information on the latest teaching strategies, research, resources, and special education news.

The Council for Exceptional Children operates the National Clearinghouse for Professions in Special Education (NCPSE), a cooperative agreement funded through the Office of Special Education Programs, U.S. Department of Education. NCPSE serves as an information resource for professionals and students in the fields of special education and related services professions. As the only national information center of its type, the Clearinghouse gathers, develops, and disseminates information on recruitment, preservice preparation, employment opportunities, and attrition and retention issues.

The Council for Exceptional Children and the National Clearinghouse for Professions in Special Education are pleased to provide this Directory of Programs for Preparing Individuals for Careers in Special Education to assist individuals in their selection of career programs and institutions.

About This Directory

Data in this directory were provided by Institutions of Higher Education (IHEs) responding to surveys conducted by The Council for Exceptional Children and the National Clearinghouse for Professions in Special Education. This directory lists special education teacher preparation programs and only lists related services programs when they fall under the college or department of education at the IHE. For more information on personnel preparation programs in the related services, see Appendix III for the appropriate resources.

This directory is being made available to you in two media, print and diskette. The print directory has been arranged for ease in reading and reference, while the electronic version has been formatted for ease in loading into the computer software of your choice. Both versions contain the information the individual Institutions of Higher Education (IHE) submitted to us about their programs. A copy of the survey form used appears in Appendix I.

To update or list a new entry to the database, you may request the survey form from the address below or register your programs on our Web site at the following URL:

http://www.cec.sped.org/cl/iheupdt.htm

It is our hope that this is the most up-to-date directory of special education personnel preparation programs. We know, however, that this type of information is constantly changing and new programs are being added and modified on a regular basis. CEC and NCPSE make no claim that this is a complete and comprehensive listing of all special education personnel preparation programs and hope that if your program is not listed or listed incompletely or incorrectly, you will contact us so that we may make the correction as soon as possible.

How to Use This Directory

The printed directory is arranged in alphabetical order by state, and within state, in alphabetical order according to institution name. This print version of the directory contains a subject index by which you can find programs according to a set of standardized descriptors assigned to the programs. The master list of descriptors can be found in Appendix II "Key to Codes Used in the IHE Database." The following types of information are provided (see the sample entry on the next page):

- Institution Name
- School/Department Name
- Mailing Address
- Name of Department Head or Program Chair
- Telephone Numbers -- Voice, TTY, and FAX
- Electronic Mail -- Addresses for the Internet and other electronic mail systems.
- Accreditation -- whether the institution's programs have been approved by The Council for Exceptional Children (CEC) for the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) accreditation process, and/or whether the institution is state-accredited. It should be noted that the approval of the special education program by CEC does not necessarily mean that the school of education has been accredited by NCATE.
- Number of Faculty -- the number of full-time and part-time faculty.
- Institutional Type -- whether the institution is an Historically Black College or University (HBCU) or Other Minority Institution (OMI, i.e., one in which at least 25% of the enrollment is minority.)
- Program Information -- Program academic levels are given first, followed by the name of each of the programs or areas of concentration offered at each level. The program academic levels are coded as follows:

A	Advanced graduate program that does not lead to a degree.
AS	Program leading to an associate degree.
CP	Program leading to certification for paraprofessionals.
D	Program leading to a doctoral degree.
G	Post-baccalaureate program leading to a master's degree.
UG	Undergraduate program leading to a bachelor's degree.
